

The Wedding

The Venue

The Lady Victoria Colliery, once a working coal mine, is now home to the National Mining Museum Scotland, an independent charity which boasts a nationally recognised collection. These rustic industrial buildings provide a unique and memorable location for your wedding.

You can have your ceremony in the Powerhouse or in front of The Arches, add a guided tour with an ex-miner for your guests during the drink's reception, enjoy your meal in the Powerhouse and then dance the night away.

The Ceremony

Celebrate with up to 80 daytime guests and have your humanist, civil or religious ceremony inside the Power House or outside in front of The Arches and vintage locomotives.

We provide you with banquet chairs (that can be used as is). Or you can hire chair covers and sashes, wooden chairs for a rustic look or chaviri chairs for a touch of glam.

The Photos

Victorian architecture marries industrial style to create this authentic wedding venue, made for photography. The museum provides a stunning backdrop for captivating images with an edge. A contemporary photographer's dream – your photos will have a true wow factor.

The Meal

While we don't currently have an in-house caterer, we are happy for you to work with your chosen reputable external caterer* to create the wedding breakfast of your dreams at a budget you can afford.

Your caterer will serve as your event manager, provide event staff, crockery, cutlery and white table linen.

Your caterer will be required to meet with the NMMS team to discuss your wedding, terms & conditions and sign a contract prior to you confirming their services.*

The Evening

From the wedding ceremony to your meal to your evening - the Power House is versatile and can fit up to 120 guests for your evening celebrations. The hall is suitable for all types of music including live bands and ceilidhs.

The Venue Costs
